

Exclusive Nordic Invite

Visit the home of Dawson Books!

We would like to invite you and your colleagues to Foxhills House during Online Information week.

For the week of Monday 30 November through to Friday 4 December, we would be happy to host you at Foxhills House, our home and headquarters - the home of your book supplier.

- Explore Foxhills House and meet the Dawson team
- Come and see the very latest developments on eBooks and our new web system, dawsonenter
- See how your books are received, serviced and delivered to you
- Learn at first hand how our workflows can benefit your library

We will provide lunch and give you time to talk to your contacts in our Customer Service, dawsonera, Servicing, Sales, Book Research, Out of Print and IT departments, who will be on hand to assist, answer your questions and escort you round Foxhills House.

Come and see how we do it at Dawson Books!

To secure your place, please email your name, your organisation and any colleagues attending. Please also indicate which day would be best for your schedule. Travel couldn't be easier and we will send you more details, including train times, prior to your visit, by email.
