DAWSON SUCCESS IN SCANDINAVIA

Dawson Books is delighted to announce a series of recent tender awards in Norway and Sweden.

The University of Gothenburg has awarded a two year contract for the supply of academic and scientific books to Dawson. This reappointment will also cover the Universities of Boras, Jonkoping, Karlstad, Halmstad, Skövde, West and the Nordic School of Public Health. Moreover, Lund University and the Chalmers University of Technology have also made recent book awards to continue their long partnership with Dawson in academic book supply.

Maria Hedlund, University of Gothenburg said "Dawson Books has presented the best tender in regards to high quality, service and technology. The library team looks forward to working with Dawson to meet the requirements of a changing library world".

In Norway, Dawson has been successful in winning the prestigious corporate contract for Statoil/Hydro. In a similar award, the University of Oslo, Norway's largest and oldest HE institution has selected Dawson as the preferred supplier of English and American books for the next two years. Both awards can be extended for a further two years following the initial two year period.

Diane Kerr, Managing Director commented, 'The team has delivered the highest level of service standards. We have served the Nordic libraries for more than twenty years and these reappointments are important to us; they demonstrate the level of partnership and commitment that is rare in any industry'.
