Scotland appoints Dawson Books

The Scottish Consortium for Academic Book Supply (SCABS) has announced the appointment of Dawson Books as an approved supplier of Monographs and Standing Orders. The award is for a period of 3 years November 2004 through to November 2007 with further potential yearly extensions through to November 2009. Dawson Books is one of two nominated suppliers for the supply of monographs and one of three nominated suppliers for Standing Orders.

The approval of Dawson Books in such a comprehensive manner not only marks a vote of confidence in Dawson, its services and staff, but also underlines the achievements of the growing relationship between Dawson, the SCABS and its members. Since 1999 when Dawson Books were officially appointed to the list of contracted suppliers, trust and understanding between all parties has flourished. The Dawson on-going investment in infrastructure and staff development has nurtured and strengthened the service provision during the last few years, whilst experience of the needs of the SCABS members has developed a synergetic relationship between all parties.

Diane Kerr, Managing Director of Dawson Books commented, "We are all very pleased – SCABS have vindicated the infrastructure investments we have made and the quality service standards that we have worked hard to implement. In exceeding the stringent requirements we have established with SCABS a high level of partnership and commitment in academic book supply."

Colin Galloway, Chairman of SCABS said, "SCABS members have been delighted with the consistent and high standards of service received from Dawson Books and this has been the basis for continuing this strong partnership. We look forward to working with Dawson Books to meet the needs of our libraries in the future."

The continued success in serving consortia and customers throughout the globe has further added to the abundant wealth of experience to be found in Dawson.
