

dawsonera News

29 May 2009

Dawson Partners with Hodder Education and Learning Matters

Dawson Books is pleased to announce the arrival of resources from Hodder Education and Learning Matters to its growing catalogue of more than 93,000 ebooks, available for purchase on dawsonera.

dawsonera is an innovative ebook lending platform and an indispensable acquisition tool for academic and research libraries worldwide. The arrival of high quality educational books from Hodder Education and Learning Matters underpins the Dawson commitment to provide core ebook content relevant to the FE, HE and health sciences community.

Hodder Education

Hodder Education publishes books, resources and digital materials for the schools, colleges, higher education, health sciences and self-learning markets.

Hodder Education specialises in a range of subjects including geography, languages, law, linguistics, medicine, nursing, psychology, sociology and therapies.

Learning Matters

Learning Matters specialise in key textbooks focusing on nursing, youth & community work, education, law, sports, policing and social work. Learning Matters' titles concentrate on practical skills, active learning and the application of knowledge for the under-graduate.

For more information or to request complete title lists, contact a member of the team now:

Jude Norris, eBook Sales & Marketing Manager
jude.norris@dawsonbooks.co.uk

Claire Chandler, eBook Sales & Business Support
claire.chandler@dawsonbooks.co.uk

Both are available on 01933 417500 or visit www.dawsonera.com